SEVERN TOWNSHIP PUBLIC LIBRARY

Internet access at the Severn Township Public Library is another service provided for the public. The service is intended primarily to be an information resource that adds to or takes the place of the library's print resources.

The Internet functions in an unregulated environment and therefore provides access to a wide variety of resources over which the Library has little control. The information obtained through this electronic resource may not be accurate, complete or current. The Library is not responsible for the content of any resources obtained through its Internet service.

The Internet provides access to information that may be considered controversial, offensive or inappropriate for children. Parents or guardians are responsible for their children's use of the Internet access service.

Users of the Library's Internet service are expected to agree and adhere to the following :

- To use the Internet for educational, fun and information purposes only and not for unauthorized or illegal or immoral purpose.
- To use the service for reasonable length of time, such as an hour, if others are waiting
- To not attempt to modify or gain access to files, passwords, or data belonging to others
- To not attempt to damage or alter the Library software or hardware
- To no seek unauthorized access to any computer system
- To not send or receive or display text or graphics that are illegal or may be considered threatening, obscene or offensive to others

Patrons are allowed to being in their own laptop or other device to use the wireless access.

Printing charges are 25 cents per page

Since we have minimal staff, we are available to help patrons use computer services only if other patron duties do not preclude this.
